Farah Soobhan is a teacher, workshop facilitator, curator, and contemporary mixed-media artist based in Southgate. She uses the recognisable and versatile style of Pop Art to explore her own identity as a Muslim woman living in the West. Her work highlights deeper messages relating to political and humanitarian crisis taking place globally. She has exhibited across London at MICA Gallery, Moniker Art Fair, Queen of Hoxton and The Crypt Gallery. She recently came to Southgate mosque to work with the Girls Youth Club to create watermelon paintings due to the sliced watermelon being a symbol of resistance for the Palestinians.

Farah is available to run workshops for adults and children.

Matthew Robinson (Muhammad Abdul Mateen) is the founder of Migration Films, a production company specialising in humanity-centric documentaries. His debut book '104 IN THE SHADE: Travels Of A Humanitarian Film Maker', has just been published, and details his experiences as a film maker in some of the worlds most hostile environments. These include filming a cross Europe aid convoy to Greece, refugee camps in Lebanon and Turkey, open heart surgery on babies in Tanzania, water wells in Ethiopia and Bangladesh, food and water distributions in the desert in Somalia and Yemen, marathons in Morocco and Palestine and a rickshaw challenge in Pakistan. Matthew has been documenting the Palestine protests in the UK since May 2021, and is an advocate for Palestinian rights. He is the founder of the charity Migration Relief, focusing on refugee and IDP populations around the world.

Matthew is available for film production services, book readings and lectures on filming in humanitarian, hostile and extreme environments.
